

Monday Morning Sept. 25, 1972

Dear Vicki and Jim,

I had a busy week last week. On Monday and also Tuesday I took care of Jeannies children as she was sick and the rest of the week I played in the regional bridge tournament which was at the Hyatt House. There were so many bridge players that some of the games were held at both the Hilton and the Sea-Tac Moter Inn. My partner and I won the second session of the Women's Pairs. Yesterday I played in the Swiss Team event and placed in both sessions so I am glad I won some points. Playing two session a day makes six hours of bridge so I am a little tired today.

Mary and Mike went to the ocean over the week-end. I haven't talked to Mary yet this morning but I am glad they had a chance to get away. I think Rosellini has a good chance of winning the election because everyone is complaining about the high taxes and Rosellini promises to lower them. Governor Evans said Rosellini is the biggest fraud that ever came to the state of Washington.

Gail and Gregg have bought a house over in the Newport Hills area. They moved in last week and Gail is going to quit her job.

I hope you received the chess card. After this I will send it airmail or enclose it in a letter.

I hope you will enjoy the bridge lessons. It is a long way to go but I think the lessons are the only thing. There a good teachers and poor ones so I hope you have one who can explain in a good way.

At the bridge tournament there was a young man who had no arms and he played cards with his toes. His partner took off his shoe and sox for him and this poor guy had his foot on the table and played the cards as fast as anyone else. It was a little shattering to see.

We have had very heavy rain storms but it is beautiful out this morning, altho a little chilly.

Have a good time and I will write again soon.

Love,

Mom.
